Question: 1

Sentence (10): "Fewer sunlight means less serotonin."
What correction should be made to this sentence?

- A. change means to mean
- B. capitalize serotonin
- C. change less to fewer
- D. change Fewer to Less

Answer: D

Explanation:

Agama feeder is for numbers and applies to dungs that can be counted. Sunlight cannot be counted. Less is for an amount which true for this sentence. Also, maim the change brags back the Intended parallels of the sentence. Choice A is incorrect excuse the subtract and verb agree as they are mitten, Chime E also incorrect because the word is not a proper noun and does not need capitalization, Choice C incorrect The reason is even in the explanation above for choice D.

Question: 2

Sentence (11): "So far, risk factors has not been identified."
What is the best way to write the underlined portion of the sentence? If you think the original is the best way to write the sentence, choose answer A.

- A. So far, risk factors has not
- B. so far, risk factors has not
- C. So far, risk factor have not
- D. So far, risk factors have not

Answer: D

Explanation:

Factors is plural and needs a plural verb. The verb has is singular. So, this makes a disagreement between subtract and verb. Hove iS the plural form of has and needs to be used here Choice A iS incorrect the sentence has an error With subtract verb agreement. Choice B iS wrong because removing the capital letter causes another error. Choice C iS incorrect The change Simply switches the problem in agreement rather than eliminating it.

Question: 3

Sentence (12): "Most people with SAD just tough it out and waiting for spring. "
What correction should be made to this sentence?

- A. write SAD as sad
- B. change tough to toughing
- C. change waiting to wait
- D. no correction is necessary

Answer: C

Question: 4

Sentence (16): "The good news is that spring always comes?"
What correction should be made to this sentence?

- A. change good to well
- B. change the question mark to a period
- C. capitalize spring
- D. no correction is necessary

Answer: B

Explanation:

The sentence is not interrogative it is declarative. In other words, it needs a period at the end, not a question mark. Choice A is incorrect because "is" is an adverb, and the noun "news" needs an adjective. Choice C is incorrect because seasons are not capitalized. Choice D is incorrect because there is an error that needs to be corrected.

Question: 5

Sentence (1): "Many businesses in the United States regularly hire "temps" or temporary workers."
What correction should be made to this sentence?

- A. remove the quotation marks from temps
- B. remove or temporary workers from the sentence
- C. change the spelling of temporary to temporaray
- D. place a comma after temps

Answer: A

Explanation:

Choice A is correct because the word "is" is not being used in a different way from a dictionary definition. Choice B is not correct because readers need an explanation of the word "temp." Choice C is wrong because "temporary" is spelled correctly. Choice D is incorrect because a comma is not needed.

Question: 6

Sentence (2): "Now known as the staffing industry, temp work employs nearly 3 million people and generating more than $40 billion annually."
What correction should be made to this sentence?

- A. change industries to industry
- B. change work to works
- C. change employ to employing
- D. change generating to generates

Answer: D

Explanation:

This question is about parallel structure. "employs" and "generating" are verbs that need to be changed to be parallel. The best way to make them parallel is by putting both in the present tense. Choice A is incorrect because "the staffing industry" is a single unit, so it does not need the plural form. Choice B is incorrect because the noun "is" is singular and needs a singular verb. Choice C cannot be done without adding more words.

- A. change Because to Since
- B. remove the comma after secure
- C. change skills to skill
- D. change they're to their

Answer: D

Explanation:

The problem in the sentence is the wrong homonym The word their is possessive and is needed in this sentence. They 're is a contraction of they are. So, this the •wrong word. In this sentence, cause is used correctly. So, this makes choice A incorrect. Choice C makes skills singular; however, this is not the correct choice. After all. an employer wants a worker who has more than one skill.

Question: 8

Sentence (4): "They sometimes find the perfect job and
Which of the following is the best way to write the underlined portion of this sentence? If you think the original is the best way to write the sentence, choose answer A.

- A. are hired as a full-time employee.
- B. are hired as full-time employees.
- C. is hired as a full-time employee.
- D. is hired as a fulltime employee.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The problem in this question is with antecedent agreement. The pronoun they needs a plural employees. Choice A is incorrect because of the problem with antecedent agreement. Choice C is incorrect because it has disagreement between subject and verb. Choice D is also wrong. The hyphen in full-time does not need to be removed. Also, choice D has disagreement between subject and verb. So, choice D is not correct.

Question: 9

Sentence (5): "Businesses.ig.ye teem tax scythe the company money, because temps do not receive
Which of the following is the best way to write the underlined portion of this sentence? If you think the original is the best way to write the sentence, choose answer A.

- A. Businesses love temps. they save
- B. Businesses love temps. it saves
- C. Businesses love temps; they save
- D. Businesses love temps. they saves

Answer: C

Explanation:

The problem with the sentence is a comma splice. A semicolon shows that the thoughts of both sentences are related. So, the problem is corrected with the semicolon. Choice A cannot be correct because the original has a comma splice. Choice B is also wrong. The reason is that it has a pronoun-antecedent agreement problem. Choice D is incorrect because it creates a subject-verb agreement problem.

Question: 10

- C. flexible schedules and it gives
  - D. flexible schedule, and it gives

Answer: D

Explanation:

Adding a comma eliminates the problem of the run-on sentence. Choice A is wrong because there is an error in the sentence. Choice B is also incorrect because it creates a problem with subject-verb agreement. Choice C is incorrect because it creates a subject-verb disagreement in a different part of the sentence.
